WILMA MANKILLER
Overcoming stereotypes

WILMA MANKILLER was guest speaker for the 1994 YWCA Tribute to Women, held April 11. There were nearly 1100 wimin present at the Century Center luncheon.

Ms. Mankiller grew up poor and the middle child of 11 children. She said she had wimin who believed in her and helped her to become the woman she is today...Chief for the second largest tribe in the United States with over 150,000 enrolled in the Cherokee Nation. She oversees an $86 million annual budget.

Ms. Mankiller's journey followed one of concern for proper housing for wimin and children. She got a college degree, volunteered, then ran for office and eventually became Chief. Her greatest obstacle along her journey was the discrimination against her by men. (Is that a surprise?) They fought her at each level, but she did not fight them, rather she focused on the issues at hand and what she wanted to accomplish. There were enough people who would listen to reason and good sense to insure her success. Her ability to write for grants and gain the Cherokee People large sums of money also caught the attention and support of many of her people.

Each political election has seen Ms. Mankiller win by a greater and greater margin as confidence in her grows. She has been elected for the third 4-year term.

A humorous story she told was of the difficulty some of the 12 male councilmembers gave Chief Mankiller at the very first meeting. She said she knew she would have to do something before the second meeting took place, so, because meetings are formal and all members have microphones, she ordered all mics be hooked up to her primary mic and switchboard. When the next meeting was held and the men who gave her problems began to speak, she simply turned off their mic. They knew she was in charge from that point on.

Ms. Mankiller's message to wimin was to take risks. Put yourself in a good position, if you can, but take the risk of doing what you want to do and care about. Be bold and stand strong. She also stressed the importance of wimin helping wimin.

LORI HARMON HONORED

One student from each area college and high school was honored at the recent YWCA Tribute to Women. Lori Harmon was the honoree from IUSB. The Tribute to Women program noted that Lori "has devoted much of her time to lesbian issues including initiating and coordinating South Bend's first gay pride celebration, Pride '92." Congratulations, Lori!

ELDERS APPROVES OF HOMOSEXUAL PARENTING

Cardinal James Hickey has written to President Clinton condemning Surgeon General Joycelyn Elders backing of homosexual adoption. "It is one thing to defend the human rights of homosexual women and men; it is quite another to encourage, as she does, a lifestyle which puts homosexual unions on a par with marriage and family and condones homosexual behavior among young people", Hickey, archbishop of Washington, D.C. wrote. Elders backs homosexual adoptions and denounced certain sexual attitudes of conservative religious groups in the March issue of the Advocate. --USA TODAY--

LESBIAN AND GAY FBI AGENTS

A federal judge approved a settlement of a lawsuit by a fired gay FBI agent, which includes a ban on discrimination by the FBI based on sexual orientation. The suit by Frank Buttino, fired in 1990 after 20 years with the FBI, was resolved in a mistrial last December when the Clinton administration promised to treat homosexual and heterosexual FBI employees and applicants alike. The Settlement forbids discrimination on the grounds of "homosexual conduct among consenting adults in private." FBI director Louis Freech adopted the settlement in guidelines sent March 2, to all field offices. Buttino dropped his request for reinstatement. He settled for just under $100,000 in cash, $53,000 in legal fees and costs and a $1746 monthly pension at 62. --USA TODAY--

LESBIAN AND GAY PARENTS UNDER ATTACK

On Monday, January 10th, two anti-lesbian/gay initiatives were filed with the Washington Secretary of State, setting off petition drives to get the measures on the November 1994 ballot. One of these two measures, filed by the Citizens Alliance of Washington, targets lesbian and gay parents and their families with unprecedented vigor...prohibiting lesbians and gays from becoming foster parents, adopting children, or gaining custody in a divorce. This measure also bars "minority status based on homosexuality," prohibits schools from presenting homosexuality as positive behavior, and bans same-gender marriage.

"The best interests of children" are clearly irrelevant in the Religious Right's anti-lesbian/gay crusade. Buried in the fine print, where it has been missed by most news stories, the initiative states the upon dissolution of a marriage where one of the parents is lesbian or gay, the other parent will receive custody. Where both parents are homosexual, custody will be awarded to the nearest non-homosexual relative. If no such person exists, children will be taken from their parents and put in foster care or put up for adoption.

"The Right needs a scapegoat to coalesce its power base...and we are it," explains psychologist April Martin, author of The Lesbian and Gay Parenting Handbook. "We're the basis upon which they get people to fork over their money."

Public opinion polls show that "coming out" is the most effective and persuasive tactic for lesbians and gays. "The more out we are," agrees Stanciach, "the more they know us as human beings...as normal everyday working people and parents."

In court Ms. Bobbitt testified that her husband was cruel and insensitive. I say he's only nuts.

MICHIGAN LESBIAN/GAY ALUMNI SOCIETY

Last spring, Regents Larry Dietch and Rebecca McGowan, and Bill Colburn of the Alumni Association, welcomed over 60 people to the first annual reunion of the University of Michigan Gay and Lesbian Alumni Society (UMGALAS). The current organization has about 100 members.

UMGALAS was created to promote a positive environment for lesbian, bisexual, and gay alumni, students, faculty, staff, and friends of the University of Michigan. Working with the Alumni Association and its affiliates, the group strives to increase visibility of lesbian, bisexual, and gay alumni, and decrease homophobia, violence, and discrimination on campus. UMGALAS is a resource for information, ideas, and positive role models, which works to improve the status of lesbian, bisexual, and gay UM alumni, students, faculty, and staff.

The organization is taking steps to create a scholarship fund for lesbian, bisexual, and gay students. In addition, diverse areas of career and academic counseling and mentorship are being explored. A lecture series, an awareness campaign, seminars, and trips are on the horizon.

UMGALAS will be participating in Gay Pride Week activities in June. Concurrent to these activities the group will be holding a membership drive as it seeks to become more visible in the University community and beyond.

All members of the Alumni Association of the University of Michigan are eligible for membership in UMGALAS. For more information about the group or its activities, contact Jayne Thorson at (313) 761-1566.

A Parenting Group for Lesbians and Gays

There are several common problems that are encountered by stepfamilies regardless of sexual orientation. These problems can pull and tug at a relationship. Since lesbian/gay families are a unique subset of stepfamilies, it is important that they be recognized as a family system that interacts with numerous other systems. Many factors affect the complexity of parenting issues amongst lesbian/gay parents, their partners, and the children who live in these families.

It's time for a group for lesbian/gay parents. Whether you are a single parent or in a relationship where children are a part of the family, I would like to offer the lesbian/gay community an opportunity to have a specialized parenting group where issues can be addressed openly and in a safe environment.

I have never seen a parenting group for lesbian/gay parents. I have taught parenting classes for the past 3 years, I have ran a parenting therapy group that included both single parents, heterosexual couples and stepfamilies, and I have seen a multitude of individual clients and couples over parenting issues. I have also presented several workshops through several school systems addressing effective parenting. With a specialty in attention deficit hyperactive disorder, I have worked with the most challenging children and adolescents, and their parents.

If you are interested in such a group, please call me at Psychiatric Services Integrated, 271-0702, where I am now in private practice. I will be glad to discuss group fees, insurance reimbursement, and more about the group start-up date. I'll be looking forward to hearing from many of you over this much needed group in the Michiana community. Psychiatric Services Integrated is located in Edison Lakes. Please see my ad in the advertising section for more information.

DEERPATH

What would your dream get-a-way weekend be like? Would you see yourself walking with your special someone on acres of private woodland, walking along a winding lane through beautiful oaks, or strolling along a river shore? Would you place yourself in gardens of flowers, and herbs, and abundant wildlife? Do you see yourself housed in luxurious comfort, waking up to a view of tree tops and winding rivers? Are you enjoying wonderful food and drink (without the preparation or clean-up)? Would your dream weekend leave you feeling peaceful and give you a sense of REALLY getting away from stress, almost as if you had spent time in another world, a truly kind and gentle woman-centered world?

Well, this was my dream, and it came true last weekend at DEERPATH. Two gentle, caring, and very special women gave us a weekend we will never forget.

Dear Editor:

Fanlight Productions distributes award-winning educational videos on mental health and human relations issues. We have just released two new programs on gay and lesbian parenting. When space permits, will you please include the following information for your readers:

Love Makes a Family, a new video documentary, introduces a lesbian single mother who shares parenting with the gay father of her son; a lesbian couple, one of whom is deaf, who care for the children of one of them by a previous marriage, and a gay male couple with two adopted sons. The program will be enormously supportive for any family which has members who are gay and will be a valuable tool for increasing awareness and understanding of the general public. 16 minutes, video. Purchase/$195, Rental/$50, Shipping/$9. Contact: Fanlight Productions, 47 Halifax St., Boston, MA 02130. (800)937-4113.

Other Families, a provocative new video, explores the perceptions and feelings of seven adults who were raised by lesbian mothers. It confronts the questions so frequently asked by skeptics of today's new (or newly acknowledged) family structures: "Sure, it looks fine now, but how are the kids going to turn out?" At least to judge by these seven interviews, the answer is that they've turned out just fine: with some problems to be sure, but the only problems that all seven share are those arising from the need they or their parents felt to keep secrets from a society that did not accept their kind of family. 49 minutes, video. Purchase/$245, Rental/$50, Shipping/$9. Contact: Fanlight Productions, 47 Halifax St., Boston, MA 02130. (800)937-4113.

Please contact me if you would like to receive a review copy of the video prior to publishing information for your readers.

OPEN ARMS SUPPORTERS

We would like to thank those who have and continue to support Open Arms by listing their services. We have been informed that several get additional support from our readers which more than makes up for the minimal charge.

We added 44 new family readers in 1993, and that doesn't include those who read or borrow others. Remember, if you're in a bind financially and can't afford the cost, let us know. When you can, remember us.

MISSION STATEMENT

Open Arms exists to disseminate diverse information of interest to the Michiana lesbian community.
